Freezing Cold Causes Heavy Damage To Florida Crops

Hurricane Like Ocean Storm Chills South

By The Associated Press
A GREAT Atlantic storm—with the strength but not the fury of a hurricane—yesterday brought damaging cold to Florida. The rest of the East Coast got minor floods, high winds, and persistent rain.

No general relief was expected before the first of next week.

Florida crop damage ran into the millions of dollars.

Heat Turned On

So many Miamians turned on electric ovens and heaters against the cold that transformers were overloaded and power was knocked out in some sections of the city.

The shortage of electricity shrunk pictures on television sets.

A gigantic ocean storm was blamed. Two thousand miles in diameter, it was centered off the mid-Atlantic coast about 250 miles at sea. Although it lacked the fury of a hurricane, it was described as three times as big as one.

The storm's circular motion acted like a revolving door. Cold northern air was scooped in and deposited in the Deep South. In reverse, mild Southern air was driven into the North.

High tides lashed the Northeast coast with more than hurricane force. Gale force winds and persistent rains that began Sunday in the Northeast caused minor floods from New Jersey to Maine.

An ice jam burst a dam at Peppercorn, Mass., but no serious damage was reported.

Maine Warmer Than Miami

Gordon E. Dunn, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said such a winter storm of this size and intensity occurs only once every five or 10 years.

One result of the freak storm was that Portland, Maine, with a low of 44 degrees was warmer than downtown Miami where a record Jan. 10 low of 42 degrees was recorded. It was as low as 31—below freezing—in some outlying Miami farm areas.

There was frost in the Everglades and schools were closed in some areas of southeast Florida.

One farm official estimated damage to crops thus far at 10 million dollars.

The temperature was in the 20s and 30s throughout the Southeastern states and in the 50s in normally tropical Cuba.

The storm brought winds up to 85 miles an hour Sunday, full hurricane force. Later, they tapered off to about 60 to 65 miles at sea.

Leaves, Del., had 56 mile winds and Sandy Hook, N. J., 52 miles per hour.

Tides Above Normal

The Weather Bureau at Atlantic City, N. J., reported tides there at 4½ feet above normal and added:

"This is a larger departure from normal tides than occurred during the 1954 and 1955 hurricane seasons."

Atlantic City was partially cut off from the mainland by flooding of the White Horse Pike, one of two principal traffic arteries. Water was high deep in some sections of the city.

There was minor flooding in Keansburg, Monmouth Beach, and West Wildwood, N. J.

At Albany, the Weather Bureau forecast warm and rainy weather in eastern New York through Sunday and warned of possible floods in mountain areas.

Ice jams posed the main threat to river communities in New England as rains continued for the third successive day.

Warm In North

While Florida and the Gulf states had unusual cold, temperatures from New England and New York westward across the Great Lakes were considerably above normal.

Rain changed to snow, sleet and freezing rain in West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and western Virginia. Huntington, W. Va., had 2 inches of snow.

The northern plains had low cloudiness and light snow. But it was generally fair in the southern Plains, through the Rockies and in the far southwest.

The Pacific Northwest was cloudy and mild with rain reported from central California northward to Oregon.

Floods In Canada

The odd storm reached into Canada where flooding was more serious than in this country. Six consecutive days of above freezing temperatures caused widespread floods in Nova Scotia and caused million dollars of damage.

A dam on the Lahave River 76 miles from Halifax was menaced by rising waters. Enough men and equipment could save the structure but blocked roads made it impossible to bring them in.

Portland Council To Protest Increased Telephone Rates To Public Utility Commission

PORTLAND—The borough council here has gone on record against the Pennsylvania Community Telephone Company's proposed rate increase and will file a formal brief against the increase to telephone subscribers with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.

Russell Strunk, secretary of the council, said the body has instructed Atty. Alfred Nittle of Bangor, borough solicitor to prepare and file the complaint with the PUC.

The application of the Pennsylvania Community Telephone group if approved, would bring the new tariff into effect on March 1.

The company is composed of three districts with central offices at Bangor, Elizabethtown and Quarryville. It operates 17 exchanges serving some 16,377 stations. All customers would be affected by the proposed increase.

Recently, the company installed dial systems at Saylorsburg, Portland, Tremont, Gratz and Rawlinsville exchanges.

Orders have been placed for dial equipment for the Pen Argyl exchange.

Company officials, when the move for the rate increase was announced, said the construction bill will amount to $650,000.

Five Flying Missionaries Seized By Savage Indians In Ecuador; One Feared Slain

QUITO, Ecuador, Jan. 10 (AP)—Five flying missionaries from the United States were believed today to have been seized and at least one of them slain by savage Aucas Indians. The scene was a remote Amazon jungle region of Northeastern Ecuador.

A Quito radio station reported receiving a message from a U.S. Air Force search plane saying that the missionaries' plane was destroyed and that observed besides it was the body of one unidentified person.

The search plane, an amphibious Albatross, was dispatched from the Panama Canal Zone to fly over the jungle region where the five missionaries landed in their small Piper plane on Sunday.

Last Message

A last radio message received from the missionaries said:

"Here come a group of Aucas whom we have not known before."

The five were identified here as Nat Saint of Huntington Valley, Pa.; Edward McCully of Milwaukee, Wis.; Peter Fleming of Seattle, Wash.; James Elliot of Portland, Ore.; Roger Youderian of Billings, Mont.

A previous dispatch from Guayaquil, Ecuador, gave three of the names as Nate Saint, Pat Fleming and Roger Iderian. Elliot's hometown was listed as Minneapolis.

Youderian was identified as a missionary for the "Gospel Missionary Union" and the other four representing "Christian missions in many lands."

Motorists Jam Court To Pay Fines

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—A jamming throng of motorists jammed traffic courts today to answer summonses issued during a holiday season drive to reduce accidents.

A line four abreast stretched through corridors and the lobby of the criminal courts building.

The motorists complained bitterly at long waits before they reached four clerks who were receiving the fines. Some said they stood in line three hours.

The summonses returnable today were among 12,637 issued Dec. 30 and 31. Of these, 7,035 were for "moving violations"—speeding, passing red lights and other offenses while the car was in motion.

"Moving violations" require a personal appearance in court.

The remainder of the summonses were for illegal parking—fines for which can be handled by mail.

Rural Talent Festival Given At Farm Show; 110,000 Attend Second Day's Festivities

By Richard L. Graves
HARRISBURG, Jan. 10 (AP)—A corps of farm folk from all counties went all out today to boost the 40th annual Farm Show theme "Farming for Freedom" in a two-hour rural talent festival.

More than 700 people, representing a host of farm organizations and church groups joined forces for the 11th annual talent program considered the entertainment highlight of the five-day Farm Show classic.

FFA Band Plays

The presentation was backed by the music of the hundred-member Future Farmers of America band and choruses from Berks and Northampton Counties.

The program traced the ascent of agriculture from slavery to American freedom.

John B. McCool, state farm show director, credited the pageant as one of the prime features in attracting a second-day crowd of an estimated 110,000 to the 14-acre Farm Show Building.

W. S. Hagar, former agriculture secretary, termed the 1956 exposition "one of the finest I've seen."

Meanwhile, more than 500 women attended the 37th annual convention of the Society of Farm Women of Pennsylvania held in conjunction with the farm show.

Call To Greatness

Mrs. Mildred B. Flagg, Boston lecturer, told the farm women they had a "call to greatness" in learning to get along in modern society.

The women were entertained yesterday by the Commonwealth's first lady, Mrs. George M. Leader, a farmer's wife—at a tea in the executive mansion.

The crowd today was estimated 45,000 persons greater than opening day. Farm Show officials said warmer weather through most of the state brought out visitors discouraged yesterday by icy roads and rain.

Outgrowing Facilities

The Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Assn. was told at its annual meeting that irrigation techniques have been improved to the point where any crop can be irrigated on any type of soil.

The disclosure by Frank W. Peckert, head of agricultural engineering at Pennsylvania State University, underlined a growing trend on Pennsylvania farms to turn to irrigation to boost crop yields despite possible droughts.

Greater Use of Water Sources

Greater use of water sources has prompted introduction in the General Assembly of a number of bills aimed at regulating water sources.

Meanwhile, Dr. William L. Henning, state secretary of agriculture, declared the Pennsylvania Farm Show is outgrowing its present facilities. "If we want new ideas and new things to continue to be introduced into Pennsylvania agriculture, we will have to have more space," Henning contended.

Bipartisan Tax Parley Starts Today

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10 (AP)—A third try at bipartisan conferences to break the Commonwealth's tax deadlock will start tomorrow.

Rep. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, said Republican and Democratic legislative chiefs would sit down in an attempt to decide on a tax program acceptable to both sides.

"I'm hopeful something can be worked out," he told a newsman. "We've got to accomplish it in a hurry, too."

In addition to Readinger, others invited to the conference include: Sens. Dent, Democratic floor leader; Mahany, GOP floor chief; and Rep. Smith, House GOP floor leader.

Basis for Compromise

Sen. Taylor, Senate president pro tempore and influential Republican, also has been asked to attend but his showing up was in doubt. Speaker Andrews (D—Cambria) is at his Johnstown home recuperating from a virus infection.

Readinger said he would suggest a compromise based on:

1. A 2 per cent personal net income tax, less federal deductions and exemption, to yield 210 million dollars between now and May 31, 1957.

2. Revising the defeated manufacturers' excise tax into a 2 per cent levy at the wholesale level to raise 165 millions.

3. Increasing the 5 per cent corporate net income tax to 6 per cent to bring in 50 millions.

450 Million Total

4. Bringing in an additional 25 millions by speeding up collection of the 5-mill capital stock tax.

This package would raise 450 million dollars which compares closely to the amount which Gov. Leader has said he needed.

Two previous attempts at a tax compromise failed when both sides failed to agree on how much new revenue is required to balance the budget.

Republicans claim the figure is between 350 and 375 millions and readied plans to transform the defeated manufacturers' excise levy into a consumer's excise tax—a form of sales impost—to yield 400 millions.

Dust Storm Feared Due

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 10 (AP)—Even the slightest whisper of a breeze stirring powdery soil in field furrows brings scowls from farmers and ranchers throughout the Southwest these days.

From Texas to Wyoming and from Kansas west through New Mexico one of the worst dust storm seasons in years may be on the way.

In Texas alone five million acres are ready for the scouring winds that usually come in late winter and early spring.

The only cure is immediate rainfall—but there's none in sight.

Speaking of dust, "We're really ripe for it and we're going to get it," predicted Texas State Soil Conservationist H. N. Smith. "There is less green in the way of vegetation than at any period in recent years. This year there is nothing to keep the soil from blowing."

Coal Production Up

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10 (AP)—The state Mines Department reported today that the downward trend in Pennsylvania coal production was reversed during 1955.

Hare Hunter And Bear Go Separate Ways

NEWFOUNDLAND—John Tobey, who as guidance counselor at the Greene-Dreher-Sterling school assists students in selecting a career, made a quick self-analysis recently and decided that he wasn't cut out to be a bear hunter.

Hunting for the "various hare" with Lorimer Brown, Angles, as guest of an Easton hunting club near Canadianis, John came upon a big stump under which there was a sizable hole that appeared to be a likely spot for a "jack" to conceal himself.

John took a look. "Nothing," he thought. He took another. Same result.

He had walked only 15 feet from the stump when a bear emerged from the hole. Not having been advised of John's decision regarding his lack of requisites of a good bruin hunter, the bear took off for other parts with great alacrity.

Said John: "Let's get out of here. This is strictly for Dave Crockett."

Widow Wins $32,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Mabel Morris, 74, widow who lives in a home for the aged, tonight ransacked her remarkable knowledge of Charles Dickens' works to win $32,000 on a television quiz show.

THE FLOW OF BLOOD: THE RIVER OF LIFE—Each day of the year someone's life is saved by the selfless donation of a pint of blood by another human being to the Red Cross Bloodmobile system. Yesterday, at the Elks Club, Monroe County donated 114 pints of blood to the mobile unit. Here, in a composite photographic print, Daily Record photographer Rod MacLeod has tried to portray the two major points to be drawn from yesterday's visit. The insert at top shows a donor giving blood. At bottom are empty bottles left over after the visit. If those bottles had been filled the quota for the month would have been met. Even though it was not, local Red Cross officials called yesterday's results "very good"; praised residents for their response to the appeal. (Staff Photo By MacLeod)

114 Pints Of Blood Contributed

RED CROSS Bloodmobile spokesmen said yesterday's turnout at the Elks Club was "very good."

The mobile unit collected 114 pints of blood—just 11 short of the monthly quota of 125 pints. Total registration was 120 but six persons were not permitted to give blood because of colds.

"Walk-ins"—persons who had not been previously pledged to give blood—totalled 16, according to Mrs. Walter Dreher, spokesman for the local unit.

Included in the group of donors yesterday were workers from industrial plants in the area. Local blood donor chairman, LeRoy Mikels, had urged a large response to the plea for donations during yesterday's visit. Monroe County's residents have failed to meet their monthly quotas for Bloodmobile units during recent months. During the past year a serious deficit has occurred twice. Each time the deficit was made up by special efforts on the part of employees at Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

Walked Through Hall

"You don't know how much we loved her," Silver told Philadelphia Bulletin reporter Earl Selby who arranged the private interview.

"In this whole business we've walked through hell. We're walking through hell all over again, talking to you."

Mrs. Silver has been indicted as an accessory in the abortion death of her daughter. She also is charged with helping Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz commit the illegal operation that killed the bride of 24 months three days before her 24th birthday.

The beautiful brunette died in the Schwartzes' North Philadelphia apartment. The Silvers said today the Schwartzes were strangers to them.

The Schwartzes are scheduled to be tried on the abortion charge later this month. Mrs. Silver has indicated she will be a witness against them.

Urged Divorce

Doris eloped June 24 after a story-book romance with Earl Ostreicher, a Miami Beach, Fla., motorcycle policeman she met while visiting relatives in the South.

The Silvers said their daughter left her husband July 31 and that Doris urged the father to start divorce proceedings.

"I wanted to take time," he said. "Parents make mistakes with their children. I wanted to take time."

Doris went to a doctor with her parents two days before she died, but Mrs. Silver said her daughter wasn't satisfied that he could help her and wanted an abortion. Then she went on:

"I said Doris, I don't know anything like that, and she said I should call this certain person."

"She seemed to know more about it than I did."

"She said I had to promise to help her."

"I told her not to worry—I said I would help her."

"When you love your child you will do anything for that child."

Mrs. Silver said that on Aug. 24, at Doris' urging, she made two telephone calls, arranging for the illegal operation.

Mrs. Silver Admits Making Arrangements For Operation

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10 (AP)—The grieving mother of a dead heiress disclosed publicly today she made the arrangements for an illegal abortion which an autopsy showed killed her daughter.

But Mrs. Gertrude Silver, weeping as she told her story for the first time, said her daughter—Mrs. Doris Jean Silver Ostreicher—demanded before the tragedy last Aug. 24 that "I want an abortion" and "You're my parent and you've got to help me."

"She cried and said I had to help," Mrs. Silver related, barely controlling her composure. "I loved her. I said I would help."

Herman Silver, 52, food chain store executive, wept, too, as he sat beside his wife in the living room of their suburban Melrose Park home.

South Carolina Forest Fires Out Of Control

GREENVILLE, S. C., Jan. 10 (AP)—Forest fires continued out of control today in the mountains of upper Greenville County.

Hundreds of weary fire fighters were hampered by erratic winds and freezing temperatures. No injuries were reported.

The most serious blaze, at Corbin Mountain, had moved down to the Terry Creek section, over to the Gap Creek area and up painter Mountain.

Early yesterday it was estimated that 1,000 acres of timber had been burned.

Locked In Church

BRADLEY BEACH, N.J., Jan. 10 (AP)—Priscilla Vecce, 14, who was accidentally locked in and spent the night in a church playing "Silent Night" on the organ to attract attention, was released this morning by a cleaning woman.

Both Parties Push Farm Legislation

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Eisenhower administration leaders agreed today to push for quick congressional action on the farm problem. They talked also of the need to get started on a big highway construction effort.

Democrats, who control Congress have also shown a desire to get going with farm legislation. Chairman Ellender (D-La.) called his Senate Agriculture Committee to meet with Secretary Benson Thursday morning and with representatives of farm organizations Thursday afternoon. The House agriculture Committee went to work in a preliminary meeting today.

School Aid Message

In the meantime, President Eisenhower arranged to send his special message on federal aid to school construction to Congress Thursday morning. His next message will be the important one on the federal budget, next Monday.

Eisenhower called the "top Republican leaders of the Senate and House to the White House this morning on his second full day of work there in his convalescence from his heart attack."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader, said the President looked fine. Knowland and Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the House Republican leader, agreed there was no talk bearing on the question of whether Eisenhower will run again.

Knowland said the Republicans want action as soon as possible on the Eisenhower farm message, which went to Congress yesterday. He said the feeling of urgency was based on a desire to deal fairly with the farmers as a vital element of the economy, rather than to seek votes for November.

Held Constructive

"There was general agreement," he said, "that the message was constructive and, if properly enacted, would meet the agricultural problems of the nation."

A central feature of the program received bipartisan support. This was the idea of a soil bank, under which farmers would get cash or commodities from the government for cutting back on unnecessary production.

Democrats, including Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota, maintained that the soil bank idea actually originated among them.

However, the biggest objection raised to the Eisenhower program—by some Midwestern Republicans as well as many Democrats—was that it wouldn't act quickly enough to help farmers whose prices and income have been steadily dwindling. Rep. Hope (R-Kan.), for instance, said the message held no chance of increased farm income for 1956 "when farmers need it so badly."

Stevenson Comments On Farm Message

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today that President Eisenhower's farm message "is recognition, at last, that the farmer needs help—at least in an election year."

Stevenson, who seeks the Democratic presidential nomination, issued a statement commenting on the message the President sent to Congress yesterday.

"There is serious doubt that these proposals will be effective in time to relieve the price-cost squeeze," said Stevenson. "The administration still appears to be worrying more about the farm surplus than the farmer."

Farm Group Meets With New Worker

THE MONROE County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee met yesterday with their new farmer-fieldman, Milton Cole, of Bradford County, replacing Kenneth R. Craft, who has been transferred.

Four farmers were approved for payment of special conservation practices for meeting problems resulting from the flood during August.

David H. Griffith, chairman of the committee urges all farmers in the county to enroll at the ASC Office in the 1956 Agriculture Conservation Program. The initial enrollment period is between Dec. 1 to Feb. 1.

The 1956 program has been developed to help meet the varied conservation problems in the county. Costs will be shared with a farmer on satisfactorily performed conservation practices for which federal cost-sharing was requested by the farmer before the conservation work was begun.

Additional Conservation

The purpose of the program is to help achieve additional conservation on land now in agricultural production rather than to bring more land into agricultural production.

The program that is now in operation has been developed through the Cooperation of the Soil Conservation Service, Agriculture Extension Service, Dept. of Forest and Waters, and the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

County program handbooks were mailed recently to all farmers in the county. Mr. Griffith has requested that farmers look through the book, and then call at the conservation office, located in the Court House, to discuss any practices they desire to perform under the 1956 ACP Program.

Men Consider Forming Unit For Volleyball

THE ADULT volleyball night, sponsored by the Barrett YMCA, got under way last night at the Barrett Township school. The men played six games and indicated a desire to form a league if enough men could come out on Monday nights.

Other men in the area interested in playing volleyball should call the YMCA (Cresco 2730) or report next Monday at 8:15 p.m. at the school gymnasium.

Another program sponsored by the "Y" is a community dinner to be held Saturday, Jan. 21 from 5 to 7 p.m. The profits from this affair will go toward the basketball court fund which is already 20 per cent reached.

The Ladies Auxiliary is planning and preparing this dinner. Tickets will be sold in the area by the youth of the "Y"—tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75c for children under 15 years of age.

Big Bushkill Creek Is One Of Nine Trout Waters To Be Limited To Fly Fishing

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10 (AP)—Nearly 300 employees of the state fish commission today were granted annual salary increases from $100 up.

Ending a 1½ day session, members of the commission approved a schedule for interim merit increases for about 90 per cent of the commission's personnel. William Voigt Jr., commission executive director, estimated the increases total $40,000.

The commission had a one million dollar payroll during the 1955-56 fiscal year.

The commission also announced full acceptance of the report and recommendations of the management consulting firm of Robert Heller & Associates of Cleveland. It will be put into effect "by stages as rapidly as feasible."

By Feb. 1

"We are hoping to get these increases in effect by Feb. 1, Voigt said.

The board was granted to correct "some quite serious inequities" found in many of the professional jobs such as biologists and hydrological engineers, Voigt explained.

The commission also decided to institute a five day 40-hour work week for the entire field force except wardens "as quickly as practical."

Another policy decision involved the posting of nine stretches of trout water for fly fishing only. A commission spokesman explained that many sportsmen groups have been pressing for extension of such rules.

Three Area Streams
These stretches of water will be posted this year: Big Bushkill Creek, Monroe County; North Sandy Creek, Venango County; Hickory and Mud Run, Carbon County; Dunbar Creek, Fayette County; Sedlock Creek, Lancaster County; Little Lehigh River, Lehigh County; Manatawny Creek, Berks County; and Kooser Lake, Somerset County.

The commission also approved several revisions for the 1956 open season at Fishermen's Paradise, the state's famous trout project. The changes are the first in recent years governing use of the special stretch along Spring Creek in Centre County.

Dates for this year's season are Friday, May 11, to July 14, about the same length of time as in recent years. A new regulation will allow adults to aid children in hooking and landing fish. Also, a rule providing for revocation of the state fishing license for violations of Paradise regulations, was eliminated.

Some 50,000 fishermen used the

Sub-Conscious Mind Provides Theme For Talk

REV. ADAM A. Bohner, minister of the Broadheads-Hamilton charge of the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, addressed members of the Stroudsburg Lions Club at the weekly meeting last night in the Penn-Stroud hotel.

A past president of the West End Lions club, Bohner dwelt upon the conscious and sub-conscious minds of all people, pointing out that the sub-conscious, if properly trained and fostered, never forgets. Today's tempo of life with its many complex innovations in our standard of living have led many of us to completely disregard the dictates of the sub-conscious, the speaker stated.

Blind loyalties and prejudices are the product of emotion and as such can disturb and distract conscious thinking, while the sub-conscious, the one which never forgets, is always on a calm even keel, he added. Rev. Bohner expressed the conviction that we should draw upon the wealth of wisdom and understanding which is available in the sub-conscious which would go far toward cementing differences between creeds, races and countries as they exist in the world today.

Attorney Alex. Bensinger was introduced to the members and responded with a plea for support of the current YMCA membership drive.

Junior Teens To Name 12 For Activity

ON SATURDAY night, members of the Junior "Y" Teens, a recreation group sponsored by the Youth Department of the YMCA, will elect a committee of 12 to plan and promote the weekly recreation nights held at the YMCA.

The members will elect two boys and two girls each from the East Stroudsburg area, the Smithfield area and the Stroudsburg area. These junior programs have been popular with the junior high school set and this committee will aid in the planning of affairs to meet the needs of this age grouping.

Firemen To Erect Building

PORTLAND — Portland Hook and Ladder Co. has voted to place coin cards in all homes in Portland and vicinity for the benefit of the new fire house fund. The new building will be started in the Spring on the State St. lot purchased by the firemen. Martin Kithcart presided at the meeting, which 29 members attended. Subscribe to The Daily Record

Accident Causes Minor Damages

ABOUT $30 damage was caused yesterday afternoon when a 1955 sedan hooked onto a bumper of a truck parked on S. Sixth St. Borough police said that the operator of the car was Stanley Sip-troth, Delaware Water Gap. They said the truck was being operated by Edgar Keiper, N. Sixth St., and owned by Jules Steinberg, W. Main St. Up-to-date techniques of making commercial ice cream are being offered in a two-week course at Rutgers University.

SPEND 15 MINUTES IN A "PowerStyle" CHRYSLER

learn why it's today's biggest buy of all fine cars!

Pushbutton PowerFlite mechanical and trouble-free, it's right at your fingertips on the safe left side where only the driver can reach it.

It doesn't take long to find out why Chrysler is winning the reputation as the performance leader of 1956. Just a few minutes behind the wheel of a big Chrysler Windsor V-8 like this one will show you why.

Suppose you are in the right-hand lane on an expressway . . . four lengths behind a big truck rolling along between 35 and 40 miles per hour. You want to pass. You toe the throttle and in eight seconds flat you're four lengths ahead of that moving truck and back in your own lane!

That's 1956 Chrysler performance. That's the kind of power only the "PowerStyle"

Chrysler can deliver . . . with its great airplane-type V-8 engine.

And that's not all. There's full-time PowerPilot Steering . . . Pushbutton PowerFlite, the ultimate in automatic transmissions . . . and the big PowerSmooth Brakes that outlast others 2 to 1.

These are just some of the exciting new things that await you the first time you pilot a "PowerStyle" Chrysler. If you're driving one of the other cars in Chrysler's price class, by all means make a direct comparison now. Just 15 minutes behind the wheel will show you why it's the biggest buy you can drive today!

Pocono Jointure Approval Highlights Necessity For West End Jointure Action

Approval of the Pocono Mountains School Jointure with all the tremendous potentials for finer educational programs and opportunities for young people residing in that seven-district region, points up the last remaining disjointed school problem in Monroe County.

The first to delve into the school jointure program after the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg handed down a virtual edict setting up a "County Plan" for dividing county school district into four administrative units, the ill-fated West End Jointure held forth high promise of setting a brilliant example for the remainder of the county's districts.

There have been many pros and cons on the reasons for failure of the West End Jointure and all of them are relatively unimportant at this time.

What is vital is the fact that the five districts involved—Eldred, Polk, Chestnut Hill, Ross and Hamilton—stand before the taxpayers and school-age children as the only districts which failed to move along this plan of a modern administrative unit with the manifold advantages of operations, broader and more effective educational programs and a better "product."

The "product" of our free school system is the most priceless of any produced in any other venture in the world.

It is the "product"—steeped in knowledge, a realization of civic and citizen responsibilities—on which the particular area where it is produced depends for progress, prosperity, good government and a fellowship of man based on high spiritual principles.

It is time the West End Jointure plan be evolved. Too much time has already been wasted.

Dehydrated Filet Mignon For Army Might Be Another Horror Of War

It may not be news that the general apathy of the average American citizen toward military service is a routine reaction, as reported in a recent Gallup poll taken at the behest of the Department of Defense, but it certainly must be news that the horrors of war have had a couple of additions made to the agenda.

Comes now the Army Quartermaster Corps with announcement of dehydrated steak as a most acceptable addition to the military diet of those who head for combat, mostly afout.

Moreover, it is claimed by so-called "experts" that the dehydrated item not only tastes like the more familiar version but that it also has a most tantalizing aroma when yanked from the deep freeze, dunked in water, and subjected to the flames.

We are ready to admit that the military services have made great strides in a number of directions since the days of George Washington and his Valley Forge soldiery, but we cannot accept without some mental reservations the idea of dehydrated steaks.

Somewhat or other, as we review the ration lists from the days of hardtack, coffee and slum right through to the C-ration and lemon crystals of World War II and Korea, we are convinced that the Pentagon is doing its utmost to persuade the faraway soldier that he is about to be served a dinner worthy of the Waldorf. Whether the weary dogface will sniff eagerly at the ex-dehydrated ration and consider himself on the banquet circuit is something we find hard to accept.

Maybe it is a little harsh to include this latest development of the culinary corps in the Horrors of War agenda, but if it isn't that, what is it?

George Sokolsky Says...

Theory That American Dollars Can Save France From Political Decay Untenable

One of man's most difficult problems is to find a suitable system of government. Many methods have been tried over many thousands of years. It cannot be said that any method has worked well over a prolonged period.

That is precisely what bothers France and has continuously bothered France since the Revolution of 1789. What they have today is called the Fourth Republic. It is designed to produce what the French call Democracy, but it does not such thing. France is actually governed by a permanent bureaucracy which continues no matter which political group is in power and which from day to day really makes policy. The National Assembly is a conglomeration of elected representatives who are split up among 18 political parties which are, in themselves, small and unrepresentative. To the French concept, the smallness is true democracy and the deists made safeguards the people, even if the deists consist of corruption and the virtual sale of Cabinet positions. The quarrels between Messieurs Mendes-France and Faure are strictly personal and represent a conflict of private ambitions.

The realistic evil in the French system is proportional representation which is a device to give minority parties a place in the government. While the system of proportional representation is designed to produce more democracy than a rigid two-party system, in actual practice, it lessens responsibility, destroys efficiency and produces political helplessness. This is the twenty-second French government since 1945. In that same period, the United States has had two changes of Administration: one, when Harry Truman succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt who died; the other when Eisenhower succeeded Truman, who did not run, in a constitutionally fixed election. Russia has had two shifts of the center of power in a continuous administration: one, when Stalin died and was succeeded by the triumvirate of Malenkov, Beria and Molotov; the other, when Khrushchev-Bulgarian combination took first place. Great Britain has had three changes: one, when the Labour Party, under Attlee, defeated the Conservatives, under the leadership of Winston Churchill; two, when Churchill returned to power; three, when Anthony Eden succeeded Churchill who resigned for old age. Both Attlee and Churchill continue as members of Parliament.

France's weakness is an inability for any responsible party or individual to remain in power for a sufficient period to permit a policy to be completed. This gives the permanent non-elective bureaucracy too much authority; it lessens the importance of the elected officials; instead of democracy being strengthened, it is actually vitiated. It is devaluated. When Poulade, the new French demagogue, ridicules the parliamentary system, he gains in strength among the people. Is it because the French people have already concluded that their form of democracy is ridiculous or that democracy is ridiculous? If the former, they could improve their system; if the latter, we shall before long have a Hitler-type of government running France. That has happened in France before and can happen again.

The latest attempt for dictatorship in France was in the politics of General Georges Boulanger who in 1886 became Minister of War. He stirred the French people against Germany, improved the army, made himself popular and set out to establish himself as a dictator. He failed and eventually committed suicide in exile. The term, "Man on Horseback," was first used to describe Boulanger.

During World War II and immediately after, it was anticipated that General Charles de Gaulle would play a role similar to Boulanger's but while de Gaulle gained great popularity in France, he put country above self. De Gaulle might have developed a dictatorial government, but he vacillated. Also, he was opposed by both Roosevelt and Stalin, for different reasons, and they employed their great strength against him. This may prove historically to be an example of foresight on the part of Stalin.

Mendes-France can never become a Boulanger or a de Gaulle because of his origin and his personality, but the shopkeeper, Poulade, might because he represents a mass revolt against political absurdity and unpopular taxes.

The theory that American dollars might help to save France is untenable. The best way to defeat the demagogism of Poulade is to withhold American dollars until France wins respect for stability. If France is offered money by Russia and takes it, we know with what kind of lady we are dealing.

My America

Dieters Don't Have Enough Energy To Count Calories

Ordinarily I waste no sympathy on writers of anonymous communications but I got a letter the other day that touched me to the quick. It wasn't a letter, actually, and I have no idea why it was sent to me. Maybe the writer put the wrong paper into the envelope by mistake.

What it was, it was a penciled list that read as follows: Breakfast—1 orange, 100; 1 egg, 50; 2 bread, 100; butter, 25; coffee, 00; total, 275. Dinner—rice, 400; beef, 30; fat, 25; peas, 100; milk, 240; total, 495. Supper, turnip, 100; applesauce, 100; milk, 240; Meat, 30; celery, 100.

That is all. It may be a cryptic message to the uninitiated, but an old hand like me could see at a glance that what was there was a calorie record. And to the skilled interpreter it tells a heart-rending tale—both in and between the lines. Here's how I reconstruct the picture:

We have this pitiful subject (from the handwriting I judge it to be a woman) who for months has been getting fatter, and fatter. She loves to eat—especially luscious pork roasts and the like, with plenty of potatoes and gravy, topped off with gooey desserts.

But finally she was forced to the conclusion that if she didn't get rid of some blubber she might lose her man, or forever fail to land one, or something of the kind. So she went on a diet, cutting down on fats and sweets and keeping tabs of all the calories she consumed.

I should guess the document in point was made after about the third day of the regimen. Few dieters keep those calorie-tabulations more than three or four days and we can see that our harassed friend was already beginning to lose heart. She didn't have enough energy left to total up the supper calories.

And no wonder! That day's mess adds up to 1,343 calories—an ungodly sum—and the quality is even skimpier than the quantity, to anyone who loves good food.

Meat, 30 calories, for both dinner and supper—what kind of a ration is that? Nobody can slice roast or chops that thin. Unquestionably we are dealing here with ground roundsteaks—either in meatballs about the size of walnuts or scattered sparsely and tantalizingly through the rice and mashed turnips.

And that celery that topped off the dismal day—100 calories of it, presumably gnawed intermittently from dinner time until bedtime. That's equivalent to about 10 stalks of celery.

Nobody has to tell me how this story turned out. About 1 p.m. the next day our fat friend said the hell with it and ate a load of pork chops, a malted milk and a piece of chocolate cake, a la mode.

No man is worth three dozen stalks of celery.

"No wonder there are so many juvenile delinquents these days," philosophizes Sam Levenson. "When I was a kid, being sent to your room entailed real privations and loss of privileges. Today it's no punishment at all. The kid is banished to his room where he finds a 21-inch TV set, a radio, a hi-fi phonograph, a soft drink machine, air-conditioning and probably a cute 18-year-old baby sister. I didn't have it that good on my honeymoon!"

"College football," boasts ex-coach Herman Hickman, "has done as much to toughen up the spectators as it has for the players. You can't sit three hours on clammy, unyielding concrete, getting rained on, eating cold hamburgers and peanuts, and be a weakling!"

Somebody asked Editor Herb Mayes' younger daughter, "Does your old man have a den?" "He doesn't need one," was the answer. "He just grows all over the house."

Williams Tipping Friends Eisenhower Will Not Run

Washington, Jan. 11—A member of the cabinet and leading figure in the 1952 campaign is tipping off Republican friends that President Eisenhower will not run for re-election.

Source of this significant inside word is Commerce Undersecretary Walter Williams.

The second-ranking official of the Commerce Department, who led the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee in the 1952 ballot battle, gave this advice to Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.).

She has been warning Republican leaders to prepare for the possibility that the President will not head the ticket again, and asked Williams if he had any new information regarding this secret.

Williams nodded his head approvingly.

"I have not talked with the President personally about this," he said, "but from what I know generally, it is my definite belief that he will not run again."

The Commerce executive added this was all he was in a position to tell Mrs. Smith at this time.

Note: The Maine Senator wants the GOP to name a woman as vice presidential candidate this year—if the President does retire from the political arena.

In The Bag—The "yeas" have a seven to nine vote lead at the impending start of the Senate battle over the bill to exempt interstate natural gas from federal control.

This backstage situation may change as the fight develops. That's not unusual in the Senate, particularly in protracted frays, which this one is likely to be. But it will get underway next week with the proponents of the legislation holding the majority.

That's what Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson has told Speaker Sam Rayburn, who put the embattled measure through the House last summer shortly before adjournment.

The two Texans conferred on this year's legislative schedule, and Johnson stated the Democratic Policy Committee had slated the gas bill for January 16.

"What's the line-up on that?" asked Rayburn. "How do you think it will come out?"

"I figure we have from 50 to 52 votes for the bill," replied Johnson. "To start with, the opposition doesn't have more than 43."

"How do the Democrats divide on the issue?"

"A narrow majority of them are against it," said Johnson. "My checks show that two or three more Democrats are opposed to the bill than are for it. However, the Republicans will vote three-to-two for the measure, and that gives us a safe margin."

Health Course Project

—by H. G. Heller

Dr. Berwyn B. Mattison, State Secretary of Health, announced today that a Civil Defense training course will be conducted in Harrisburg by the U. S. Public Health Service for key health department personnel from various parts of Pennsylvania, January 16-18, 1956.

The course is intended to serve as an introduction for key state personnel to the health problems of modern war. The Medical Civil Defense program will be explained to those who will participate in the course, each of whom will have an important role to play in event of an enemy attack, Dr. Mattison said.

Among subjects to be discussed during the course are: physiological problems of disaster; control of natural epidemics; radiological, biological, and chemical warfare; and National, State and Local Civil Defense responsibilities. Sanitation problems that would arise following enemy attack will be outlined. These include the effects of chemical, biological and radiological warfare upon water, food and milk, as well as problems of vector control and waste disposal.

In addition to representatives of various Services, Bureaus, and Divisions of the State Department of Health will attend, invitations have been extended to the State Council of Civil Defense, the Pennsylvania Nurses' Association, the State Department of Agriculture and the resident office of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

Dr. Arthur J. Welsh, Medical Coordinator for Civil Defense of the State Department of Health, has arranged for the course, and will be in general charge of the sessions.

"Attendees" for this course will come from the Pennsylvania Health Department—Regional Areas, Regional Areas, utilizing their own trained personnel, will then train the remainder of their Regional personnel.

Subsequently, counties of the Commonwealth will be requested to nominate "attendees" for state-conducted courses. These courses will be conducted in each Region for volunteer workers who, in emergency, can provide invaluable assistance to the Health Department staff. Personnel such as water and sewage plant operators, public health physicians, public health nurses, consulting engineers, sanitarians, operators of large food dispensing and distributing concerns, privately employed chemists, bacteriologists, and top administrative people may be designated by counties as "attendees" for these later courses.

My New York

New York — The electricians were in this morning, like a swarm of overworked brownies, getting underfoot, boring holes in the woodwork, discussing problems in their eerie language, etc. It developed they were fixing the wires so they could carry a heavier load. I looked up from my cereal and told one of the brownies I imagined most families had at least a dozen appliances using up juice daily. He eyed me as if I was a small child.

"Fifty-six," he said. "Waddy think causes fire, anyway? The average family, statistics show, has 53 electrical appliances."

The brownie's scornful comment got me to thinking about electricity and fires and like that there, and when I was through thinking and investigating, I had learned that of the 50,000 or so fires in New York last year, 3,636 of them were caused by electrical defects. The reason is relatively simple: those 53 appliances.

"The average house takes a 15-amp fuse," the brownie told me, "and when it blows out from overloading, the tenant gets smart and says 'I will put in a 30-amp fuse.' Smart, Hah! What happens is that the wires aren't built to handle that much power, they overheat—and whooey. Three people dead in Bronx fire."

My cousin Bayard is a New York City fireman, and from his general activity, I was under the impression that smoke-eaters here do nothing but drift backstage at the majestic, check the asbestos content of the curtain briefly and then stand in the wings and catch the last act of Fanny. Evidently not. Last year, 133 people died in fires in New York. The city's fire loss totaled more than $25 million—and around 20 per cent of these, a staggering figure, was attributed to careless smoking or misused matches... along with 33 of the deaths.

These figures were strong stuff to an absentminded professor like myself, who every six months starts a fire in his office wastebasket by flicking a still-burning match into it. Why, it was only the other day, after my basket had been carried out into the hall with the flames leaping six feet high, that a disgusted colleague silently laid on my desk this: "DON'T SMOKE IN BED. THE ASHES THEY PICK UP NEXT DAY MAY BE YOUR OWN."

As a man who once in a while has opened the kitchen range oven and had his eyebrows singed by the shooting flames, I was startled, too, to learn that nearly 2,000 of New York's fires last year were caused by meats, fats and other inflammables lighting on stoves. Fuel oil burners and kerosene oil heaters caused another 1,900 fires and some $200,000 damages. Also, if you worry about your kids playing with matches—keep right on worrying. Six children died in New York in 1954 because of that one.

Fire seems such a far-off, distant item—to everyone who's never been involved in one. It always happens to someone else, just like auto accidents. I had the same attitude until early in the 1940s, when inside of a couple of months, my Greenwich Village apartment was burned out twice.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

The Vacation and the Budget—The fellows who decided that the way to take the strain out of Ike was to send him to Florida to prepare a budget message were poor judges of relaxation. Imagine yourself arriving at Key West for a mid-winter vacation and having to swing almost at once into a nation's tremendous budgetary problems! The average vacationist goes south to shake off cares, worries and business matters; he alights from a plane or train with a high nonny nonny and a nothing-to-do-for-two-or-three-weeks. If there is one thing he is decidedly NOT there for it's an adding machine. Once at his hotel or cottage, Joe Doakes gets into a "pile suit" and breaks into a smile that comes with a realization that nobody will say almost immediately, "Watch yourself, and remember you've got to work on next year's economic problems!"

When Doakes goes to the beach

he takes a bottle of suntan oil, not a barrel of headaches, a group of accountants and a comptometer. How would he react if he barely got his nose peeled before he heard, "Make it snappy! Your budget message! Remember?" What would be his feelings if, instead of a towel, a good book and a pack of cigarettes he had to tote to the warm sands of Florida a flock of economic advisors, a review of last year's economic situation and a forecast of next year's? Fancy not being able to watch the pink flamingos and the pelicans because you have to keep your eye on the state of the Union! The heart of all vacationists went out to President Eisenhower this week. They know they go to winter playgrounds for sunshine, warmth, swims, and a fling at the horse and dog races, and they went for Ike buried in multiplication tables, monetary worries, fiscal pictures, etc. Oh, yes, he was photographed smiling and on the beaches, but no man can be relaxed and happy on a sandbar, a raft, a dock, a yacht or a seaside veranda when his heart belongs to the 1956 budget message.

We imagine that even the tropical birds seemed to open their

YMCA Board Of Directors Elects J. Albert Groner President

Two Named To Board At Meeting

J. ALBERT GRONER was elected president of the board of officers and directors of the Monroe County YMCA at the annual meeting held last night at the new Y building. He succeeds E. Holt Wyckoff, who filled the office the past two years and requested being relieved of the responsibilities.

Nine directors were re-elected for three-year terms as follows: E. Holt Wyckoff, R. M. Hauser, D. W. Frankfield, J. Albert Groner, Earl F. Groner, Mrs. C. E. Heller, Glenn Sanborn Jr., Alex L. Bensinger and Joseph Kovarik.

At the reorganization of the board officers, in addition to President Groner, the following were chosen: First vice president, Bensinger; second vice president, E. C. Hess; recording secretary, C. A. Keiper; assistant secretary, Kovarik; and treasurer, Hauser.

Two Vacancies Filled
Two vacancies in the board were filled. Loring Cramer will fill that caused by Dr. J. F. Noonan who moved away recently and which extends through 1957, and Howard L. Keiper Jr. succeeds Theodore Hoffman, resigned, whose term runs through 1958.

The nominating committee consisted of F. L. Stackhouse, chairman; Earl Groner and A. W. Williams.

John R. Wilson, general secretary in his report told of the many activities during the holiday period carried on at the Y. He also said $3,358.86 had been received for the building fund, leaving some $84,000 to be collected. This includes a $50,000 pledge from the Kresge Foundation.

Wilson told of the Industrial Management meeting when some 18 or 20 charter members were honored. Ladies attended the meeting, he said.

Many Christmas parties were also held in the building by various groups, the general secretary said.

4,510 Attend Events
C. C. Chopp, director of youth projects reported that 4,510 boys and girls attended various events during December in the Stroudsburg, Barrett and Mount Pocono branches. He said the Hi-Y group decorated the Christmas tree and the Teachers College and also a father and son dinner had been held at the Barrett building.

Mrs. Joan Deffenbaugh, girls' work director, reported 720 girls and women took part in exercises last month, and that square dances were held weekly in the former boiler room of the old building.

General Secretary Wilson said Ray Werkheiser had resigned as janitor, taking a new position at higher wages and no night work. The former janitor was commended for his fine work. The personnel and finance committees will consider working hours and pay for full-time employees. Wilson highly commended all the help for their loyalty and good workmanship.

Roy M. Hauser, treasurer, presented his report and financial conditions generally were discussed.

Athletic Report
The new athletic instructor, Bill McDonnell, was presented to the board and told of the activities carried out at the local Y building. Success of the holiday basketball tournament was mentioned, also that volleyball interest of the men participating had been good previous to the holiday season which interfered.

The athletic director told of formation of the cadet basketball league of six teams of boys between 8 and 11 years who play Saturdays. Swim competition will take place next month and the Gold Medal tourney in March, McDonnell said.

Progress of the 1956 membership campaign was dwelt on by the co-chairman, Horace G. Walters and Alex L. Bensinger. Walters stated he was unable to visit the West End PTA, which had offered to help the membership drive Monday night, due to bad weather.

SPCA To Meet Thursday Night

THE SOCIETY for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will meet Thursday night at 7:30 at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

However, the contact will be made later this month, he said. Both co-chairmen expressed their optimism for success of the campaign, although much hard work will be necessary.

The next report meeting of the campaign will be held Friday night at 6 at the Y and every worker is asked to be on hand. Special prizes will be awarded.

Thanks Co-Workers
Previous to the adjournment of the board, Wyckoff thanked all for the support given him and expressed the pleasure he got out of filling the office. The new president, Al Groner, asked for support and pledged his best efforts for the organization.

Board members at the meeting in addition to President Wyckoff were: D. W. Frankfield, A. W. Williams, F. L. Stackhouse, Horace G. Walters, Thomas Kistler, Merle C. Ostrom, A. J. Groner, Mrs. W. R. Toewe, C. A. Keiper, A. J. Zabiskie, R. M. Hauser, Earl Groner and A. F. Everett and General Secretary Wilson.

Security Risks Transferred To Other Agencies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Civil Service Commission estimated today that about 41 per cent of the persons who have left government employment under a security cloud since May, 1953, had been hired by the Eisenhower administration.

The balance of approximately 59 per cent, commission Chairman Philip Young reported to Senate investigators, was hired by previous, Democratic administrations.

Young also said there are indications that more than 5 per cent of those listed as fired or resigned under the administration's security program have been rehired by the government.

When a federal employee is listed as fired as a security risk, Young explained, it doesn't necessarily mean he's been removed from the government. He said a person could be removed from a sensitive job in one agency and still be accepted for nonsensitive work in another agency.

The figures on hiring responsibility were requested by Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), chairman of a Senate Civil Service subcommittee which has challenged the authenticity of some of the security figures.

Johnston contends the Republicans have been playing "a political numbers racket" to cast discredit

Housing Authority To Seek Cooperation Agreements With Two Taxing Bodies

SCHOOL OFFICIALS in Stroud Township and East Stroudsburg will be asked this week to sign agreements to accept an annual payment in lieu of taxes should Federal housing units be erected in the county.

Rev. Roger C. Stinson, chairman of the Monroe County Housing Authority, said he will seek approval of the "cooperation agreements" at tonight's meeting of the Stroud Union School Board and at tomorrow night's meeting of the East Stroudsburg School Board.

The housing authority has applied to the Public Housing Administration for 100 low-rent housing units for East Stroudsburg, 50 units for Stroudsburg, and an equal number for Stroud Township. It also is seeking a total $40,000 in planning funds.

Meeting Thursday
Meanwhile, Mr. Stinson also disclosed that an organization meeting of the Monroe County Land and Building Co. will be held tomorrow in the office of Atty. George T. Robinson.

Mr. Stinson has spearheaded the move to raise funds through the on the personnel practices of the Truman and Roosevelt administrations.

sale of stock to acquire land on which to build FHA-approved homes for families in the middle income bracket.

Representatives of the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program and Philadelphia investment firms are expected here today to look over proposed sites on which the $7,000 to $10,000 homes would be built.

If the investment officials approve of one or more of the sites, the land company would take steps to purchase the property. Then the investment firms would put up the mortgage money for prospective home-owners.

Mr. Stinson said more than $5,000 has been raised by the sale of $100 shares of stock. At tomorrow's meeting, plans will be laid to raise another $20,000 through a stock sale.

Bangor Sr. Girl Named Good Citizen

Bangor—Miss Diana Featherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Featherman of 24 Broadway, has been selected as the outstanding girl citizen in the Senior Class of the Bangor Area Joint High School by the senior girls and the senior social studies teachers.

The winner of the contest sponsored by the George Taylor Chapter, DAR of Easton was selected on the following considerations: dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Miss Featherman, as winner of the local contest, will be eligible to enter the State contest by taking tests on citizenship, U.S. government, the Constitution and on civic problems at the local school on Feb. 17.

She will receive a good citizenship pin and certificate award to be presented at a high school assembly program by Mrs. Alice K. Jones, of Easton, chairman of the sponsoring committee.

Miss Featherman is a college preparatory student and active in extra-curricular programs. She has been a member of the girls' basketball team, vice president of the Outdoor Club, and treasurer of her homeroom. She is presently a member of the Student Council, a member of the Senior National Honor Society, the Senior Tri-Hi-Y Club and the Senior Reading Seminar.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Memo to me: don't try to get out the social page on an empty stomach. It's too much like torture. Somehow in a hectic day the supper hour got by with no supper, and it seemed as if every story had a cozy group sitting down to something good to eat.

I wonder if the groups having their meetings are aware of how often I am an unwitting guest as I write up their stories. I had a pork dinner at the Reish's and sat with them "tong" their quilt during their business meeting.

I peeked back scenes at the Barry's with the hostess sick in bed and her husband valiantly serving refreshments in her place, and worried with the other hostesses who had got their houses all spick and span for meetings Monday which were postponed until later, with the dust collecting every day.

I thought longingly of the refreshments served at weddings and food I'd turned down the night before at Ann Logan.

In fact if it hadn't been for a fellow reporter with a heart, and a wife who makes wonderful butter buns, I'd probably have drooled right away before I ever got to this lower left hand corner.

Decidedly it's much more comfortable to write social news after a full meal.

Postponed Party Held At Barry Home

Henryville—Two postponements failed to spoil the Christmas party of the Paradise Women's Society of World Service when it was finally held on Wednesday night, January 4. Originally scheduled for December 29, it was changed to the home of Mrs. Martha Henry and then because of icy roads changed to a new date and back to the Barry home.

The new meeting date found the hostess and president of the group ill in bed, but the meeting went off on schedule with Mrs. Martha Henry conducting the business meeting. Minutes and a financial report were given by Miss Lulu Henry.

Plans were made for a World Service Day program to be held in Keokee Chapel, on Sunday night, February 5. Mrs. W. J. Friday will be the speaker and the Keokee Choir will be asked to sing.

The annual project of collecting Lincoln pennies for the Kentucky Red Bird Mission was adopted with pennies to be brought in to the February meeting. The group also decided to send out religious Christmas cards to Mrs. F. W. Brandauer in Indonesia, with each member asked to bring a dozen or two cards to the January meeting.

A gift exchange and Christmas refreshments were served by the president's husband, Paul Barry, and by Mrs. Vida Spangenberg, wife of the church pastor. Present were Mrs. Walter Lindstedt, Mrs. Stewart Bush, Mrs. Friday, Miss Lulu Henry, Mrs. Martha Henry, Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Spangenberg and Paul Barry.

Shirley Cook Is Bride Of Lt. Anderson

Bushkill—The wedding of Miss Shirley Kathleen Cook of Dingman's Ferry and Lt. Andrew Theodore Anderson of the U. S. Air Force was solemnized on Monday night at 8 by Rev. John H. Lackey, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church, Bushkill.

The double ring ceremony was performed before the altar which was lighted by candlelight. Mrs. Albert DeRenzis presided at the organ.

Miss Cook is the daughter of Mrs. William Cook and Lt. Anderson is the son of Mrs. John Wallace of Dingman's Ferry.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Harold Stelzer, of Dingman's Ferry. She was attired in a princess style street length gown of Chantilly lace over white satin, the bodice of which was studded with rhinestones. A fitted cap of white feathers and miniature rhinestones formed a headpiece for her shoulder length tulle veil. She carried a white winter orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John Wallace, mother of the bridegroom, wore a street length dress of plum gabardine with brown accessories and a corsage of rosebuds.

The best man was Charles Stoessel, Jr., of Livingston, N.J. The bride is a graduate of Abington High School, Philadelphia and formerly resided in Ardley, Pennsylvania. The bridegroom is a graduate of West Orange High School and the Basic Flying School, Laredo, Texas. He has served seven years with the U. S. Air Force and is presently stationed with the Strategic Air Command at Salina, Kansas.

The couple plan a wedding trip to Savannah, Georgia and from there to Salina where they will make their home.

Buttany button, who has the button? Well, I'm not positive about today, but on Monday it was a sure bet between Jennie Learn and Martha Kent. The two spent the day sitting at a small table in our notions department, matching odds and ends of buttons to the cards spread before them, and stitching them firmly in place. Just the forerunner of inventory—also a wonderful opportunity to see at a glance the trillion and one sizes, types, colors and styles available in our Wyckoff notions department.

Probably Mardee Wyckoff didn't feel half so bad about being a hospital patient on Monday as she might have, had the weather been bright and golden. Mardee, the head of our fashion department, is a patient at Warren Hospital in Phillipsburg, so our Cardcase will probably be doing a rushing business on get well cards. . . . There was a time Monday when EVERYONE was in the store—except customers. But if the icy roads did nothing else they gave our salespeople the time to arrange their stock for inventory listing. . . . Wherever one went, the meticulous business was in progress, with Bill Fisher and Harold Albert handling out the necessary instructions and paraphernalia. In the dress department, Lillian Sullivan and Kathryn Long busied themselves cleaning scotch tape from the cash register, just returned from a ring-bling Christmas season in the toy department. "Sometimes I like this kind of a day," Kathryn commented. So do I—but only when they're VERY busy.

"Remind our customers that we still have a few Christmas cards at half price," Florence Predmore requested. "If possible I'd like to see them all moved out before inventory." They are a wonderful busy—but why, I asked, do we have any left? Florence explained that these cards have not been in stock very long. They were due to arrive just a few days before Christmas, but delivery was delayed. So, you wondered, there's your answer: they are new, fresh stock, and a perfect buy for user later this year. . . . In Mary Hitesman's housewares department I was advised that after mention here the other morning, the entire stock of Spatter-Prufe skillets melted away. As a matter of fact, I had to part with the one I had intended for myself. Maybe Mary will re-order. I hope so. . . . While exploring housewares I found some very splendid buys on electric appliances. One mixer is marked down so far, you'd have to stoop to buy it! A Presto coffee maker and cooker that ordinarily sells at 27.95 is now 13.98; a Presto coffee maker, usually 29.98 is now 15.98, and a Mirro-Matic coffee maker originally 19.95 is reduced to 12.98. News like this should be heralded with a fanfare of trumpets and a big headline: PAGING ALL BRIDES!

On thing leading to another the way it does, I am also reminded that only half of Blanche Mackey's heart is in her work these days. The other giant-sized chunk is in Palm Beach where her niece, Joyce Thompson (formerly of our Tea Room staff and more recently of Bell Telephone company) will marry Dave Everett Jr. "Love and Marriage" couldn't possibly have happened to two cuter people!

Functional And Fashionable
One of the more important and interesting innovations in furniture design is the "off the floor" feature. Legs may be wooden, metal or a combination of both. Straight, tapered and arched legs have sofas, chairs, chests and cabinets reaching new heights. This airy look is in line with the trend toward lighter scaling in design. Off-the-floor pieces are functional as well as fashionable.

If it is fashionable, you'll find it in our collection of floor coverings. When you make your selections here, you can count on an expert installation as well as quality merchandise. ## Naval Reserve To Organize New Division

THE FIRST organizational meeting for a proposed Naval Reserve Electronic Division will be held Thursday night on the second floor of the Stroudsburg Municipal Building.

If the division is formed it will replace the electronic company which the county now has. Lt. Comdr. J. W. Regan will be in charge of Thursday's meeting.

Formation of a full division would mean that Naval Reservists in this county would, for the first time, have a unit training organization which would pay them for their time spent in regular sessions.

To do this, according to Regan, the unit needs about 25 seamen. It now has eight officers, including the CO. A recruiting drive for the proposed division is now being carried out by Regan and other officers.

Invitations Issued

Regan this week sent out a letter to young men in the area who are either former reservists or have previously expressed interest in joining. The commanding officer offers to give further information on the reserve program at the Thursday night meeting, at regular Monday night meetings or by telephone (454-W).

The local Naval Reserve unit has been active since 1948. Between that year and 1950 it developed into a "real going concern", Regan said. Then, with young men being called into active armed service duty, membership in the local reserve unit slackened off.

Since then, the unit has been built back to a point of relative strength. But the thing that's really needed, Regan notes, is a "pay unit" so that young men who join will get pay for their weekly training meetings. They will also receive regular-issue uniforms.

Training sessions are held in the Municipal Building on the corner of Seventh and Sarah in Stroudsburg each Monday night from 7 to 9:30. The meetings would be held on the same night after a pay division is formed.

"Pay Basis"

After the necessary complement of officers and seamen is reached, it will take only about a month to transfer the local unit's status to the "pay basis", Regan says. He has been commanding officer of the unit the past year and a half.

The main points in favor of joining the Naval Reserve, as listed by Regan, are these:

For young men interested in the Navy, it offers the service of their choice. Local unit duty gives training in basic courses such as organization, seamanship and indoctrination. With this training goes the possibility of an advancement in rate after they are successfully completed.

The new unit member starts off as a seaman recruit, wins advancement to apprentice seaman and then to seaman. More important, the training makes it possible to advance in a particular classification. In the local unit members are mainly concerned with electronics rates such as radioman, radarman, sonarman and electronics technicians.

Two-week Training

During the first year of membership the recruit goes to either Bainbridge, Md. or the Great Lakes Naval Training Center for two weeks. Thereafter he is eligible for two weeks active duty at sea each year. Shipboard cruises designed especially for unit trainees are available at all times of the year.

But the major portion of the reservist's training comes through experience with actual Navy equipment on hand in the unit's Stroudsburg headquarters. Here, in rooms set aside for special purposes, the trainee works with radio transmitters and receivers of the type found on board ships and with coding and radio key equipment. The local unit is part of a "drill circuit" along with six or eight other training centers.

Menzies Adopts British System

CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 10 (AP) — Prime Minister Robert Menzies, today introduced in Australia the British system of both Cabinet and non cabinet ministers.

He selected 12 Cabinet ministers and 10 non cabinet ministers for his reorganized government.

Menzies said non cabinet ministers would be invited to participate in Cabinet meetings when matters affecting their departments were discussed.

400 Take Part In Service At Lutheran Church

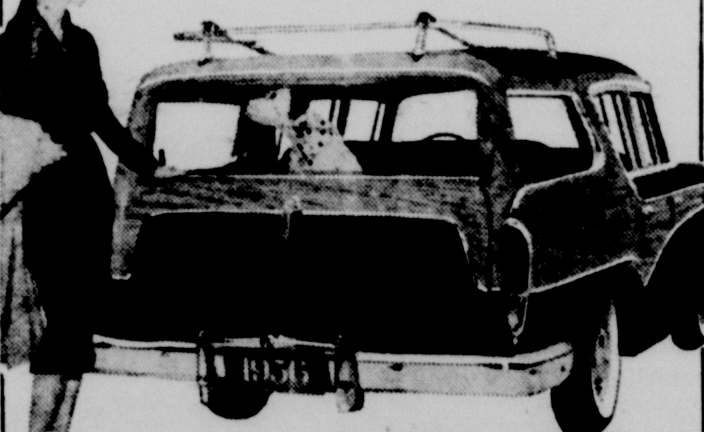

MORE than four hundred members of St. John's Lutheran Church received Holy Communion last Sunday. This broke all previous records for the Epiphany Communion at "The Guest Church". It was necessary to use chairs to accommodate the large congregation.

Rev. Clifford E. Hays delivered the Communion meditation and assisted the pastor, Rev. P. N. Wohlson D. D. in the administration of the sacrament. The latter received three new members into fellowship with the congregation.

In the afternoon, Rev. Wohlson received Linda Marie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Hagerty.

Violations Of School Bus Law Decline

THE NUMBER of violations of the law which makes it mandatory for motorists to stop 10 feet behind a temporarily halted school bus has declined during the past month.

Mrs. Ruth E. Miller, Justice of the peace in Stroud Township, said last night that there were only four complaints filed in December. Prosecution of violators began in October. Seven complaints were filed that month. In November the number rose to nine.

It was during November that Mrs. Miller, with the cooperation of The Daily Record, began a public information program to acquaint readers with the law. The peace justice and William D. Johnson, operator of a school bus for the Stroud Union District, addressed PTA members in Stroud Township. The PTA went on record giving its wholehearted support to the crackdown on violations.

Understanding Of Law

The following month's decrease in violations, Mrs. Miller said, "is due greatly to the fact that the people of the Stroudsburg area better understand the school bus laws because of the publicity given."

Local drivers, by adhering to the regulation, have "set a good example for those drivers from other states or areas who might be in doubt about whether or not to stop

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College will meet McMaster University, of Hamilton, Ontario, in soccer next Autumn. It is the first clash in history between the two schools. McMaster has an enrollment of 1,073 students and employs 94 teachers. It was founded in 1887. Ronnie Davis, Tobyhanna Township High coach, is playing basketball with the Pocono Lake entry in the Pocono Mountains League. Davis is a graduate of ESSTC.

If East Stroudsburg High was to defeat Fountain Hill last Friday night, the Cavaliers would have had to make all but one of their shots from the floor. The Cavaliers were limited to 38 field goal attempts while dropping a 72-39 Lehigh-Northampton League decision to the Hillers. It was East Stroudsburg's initial setback of the current campaign. Charley Grum, who will return to school and a place on the ESSTC basketball team early next month, was a spectator at last Saturday's ESSTC-Kutztown court battle.

Harry Schaeffer, who made his mark in Monroe County athletics before enjoying two brief trials with the New York Yankees, visited many of his friends in the area last Saturday. Harry had a boy interested in attending ESSTC visiting the local campus. Schaeffer, now basketball coach at Denver High, near Reading, is a graduate of Normal Hill. Jack Kist, football and baseball coach at East Stroudsburg High, will show films of the Thanksgiving Day football game at tonight's meeting of the St. Matthew's Holy Name Society.

Don Deibler, former three letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, was home on a brief leave from the Navy last week. Don is scheduled to attend radio school at San Diego, California, in the very near future. Biddy Basketball is slated to get underway very soon at Pocono High School. This sport has already proven quite successful in Pocono Pines and Barrett. It also used to be played in Stroudsburg.

Miles Kirkhuft, three-year varsity football campaigner at Stroudsburg High, is interested in attending the Air Force Academy in Colorado after graduating from the W. Main St. school in June. Miles took a physical examination for the Academy in Harrisburg last Saturday. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College won't take part in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Wrestling Tournament this winter. Conflicting dates is the story.

Bob Weichel, one of the best golfers in the area, spent a week in Florida during the holidays. Bob is recovering from a troublesome nerve condition of the leg. Bob Butz and Glen Heard, both reserves on the Bangor High basketball team, are making a terrific bid for regular positions on the club and are making the regulars hustle to save their jobs. Heard has only played a couple of games because of a back injury sustained in football.

Bob Adelman will be sadly missed by the Stroudsburg High basketball squad during the remainder of the campaign. Bob has been advised to pass up the court-sport for the balance of the season by his doctor. Doug Shook became the first cager coached by John Kupiec to grab 18 rebounds in one game. The big junior did the trick while scoring 33 points against Slatington in a Lehigh Valley League basketball game last Friday night.

Jim Tatum, the famous football coach who recently departed from Maryland to take a similar position at North Carolina, will be the headline attraction at the Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Clinic to be held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in June. Marty Baldwin is the clinic director. One of the best University of Scranton basketball players suffered a broken hand following a recent game.

The ESSTC output of 66 points against Kutztown was the lowest for the Warriors since Jerry Palaia took over the coaching duties last year. The previous low was 69 against Millersville last season. Chadey Galombus, who is rapidly becoming the fair haired boy among the basketball following on Normal Hill, hit on five of 11 field goal attempts against Kutztown. Dick Merring, ESSTC football star, has his glasses intact once again. They were broken in the Christmas Basketball Tournament at the Monroe County YMCA.

Cavaliers Notch Third League Win

EAST STROUDSBURG High, displaying a highly polished brand of basketball in the first half, clung to third place in the Lehigh-Northampton League last night with a convincing 67-47 decision over Pen Argyl before the largest crowd of the season in the N. Courtland St. gymnasium.

The victory was the third in four circuit outings for the Cavaliers, while Pen Argyl has now

East Stroudsburg, showing some of its best play of the current campaign, broke a scoring famine with 22 points in the first period. The Cavaliers, paced by Co-Captains Dick Gray and Danny Marvin and Jim Kimler, limited the invading green and white crew to four tallies in the first eight minutes.

Kimler, outstanding on both defense and offense early in the second round, enabled East Stroudsburg to open the point spread to 21 points before Pen Argyl outscored the home town reserves, 15-12. The Cavaliers took a commanding 37-19 halftime advantage to the dressing room at intermission. Lee Bilheimer enabled Pen Argyl to make a contest out of the second half, but the outcome of the game was never in doubt, as the Cavaliers struggled to keep their Lehigh-Northampton League championship hopes alive.

Dick Forster substituted freely throughout the battle, but his forces ran up an 18-16 edge in the third period and a 15-12 advantage during the final eight minutes.

Eastburg racked up 26 field goals, as compared to 16 for Pen Argyl, and connected on 15 of 28 free throws. Pen Argyl, coached by Ed "Jack" Palmer, found the range on 15 of 31 foul shots. Gray paced Pen Argyl's offense with 19 counters, on eight double-deckers and three singletons. East Stroudsburg made a clean sweep of last night's schedule by outlasting Pen Argyl in a thrilling junior varsity encounter, 32-31. Jim Kintrew paced the home team with 10 points.

ESSTC Cagers Blast Montclair Foe, 80-58

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College broke a two-game losing streak last night with an 80-58 basketball verdict over Montclair before one of the largest crowds of the season in the Normal Hill gymnasium.

The victory was the second in five outings for the Warriors, who return to action on the home court against powerful Panzer College on Friday night. Montclair departed from town with three victories and four setbacks.

Kelly McLaughlin, who once starred for Catasauqua High, led the Warriors to the favorable decision with 28 points, bringing his total to 156 for five games, or 31 per contest. ESSTC completely dominated the battle and could have named the final score at anytime in the ball game.

The home team led 16-8 at the end of the first 10 minutes and 37-18 at the halfway mark. ESSTC enjoyed a 21-10 point spread in the second stanza.

Second Half
ESSTC took a step nearer victory with a 20-15 bulge in the third period. Montclair ran up a 25-23 advantage against the ESSTC reserves in the final 10 minutes of action.

The Warriors held only a 28-25 field goal advantage, but the home team connected on 24 of 41 charity shots. Montclair connected on only eight of 22 shots from the foul line.

Hal Mihalik, with 14 counters, and Wilmont Smith and Walter "Moose" Bjorn, with 11 points each, also played a prominent role in the victory credited to Coach Jerry Palaia and company.

ESSTC also won the junior varsity struggle with the Montclair yearlings, 66-47. Don Troutman led the home town offense with 16 markers.

Greene-Dreher Takes Measure Of Moscow

MOSCOW — Greene-Dreher-Sterling High made its initial Wayne County Basketball Conference appearance a successful one here last night with a 53-47 victory over Moscow, the defending champion.

Howard Phillips and Walter Hinds paced the Stags to their first circuit victory and snapped a two-game losing streak against non-circuit foes, as each connected for 14 points.

The Stags held a slim 12-10 lead after eight minutes of play and were in front by only three points, 22-19, as the visiting cagers enjoyed a 10-9 bulge in the second quarter scoring.

But, Greene-Dreher opened up the throttle in the second half to extend the winning margin to six points. The Stags held an 18-13 edge in the third quarter, but Moscow reduced the deficit with a 15-13 scoring advantage in the final period.

The Stags ran up a narrow 18-16 edge in field goals, but connected on 17 of 25 free throws. Moscow converted 15 of 34 foul shots.

Tom Smailes paced the losing offense with 18 counters. The total came on four goals from the floor and 10 from the foul line.

Barrett Upends Polk To Tie For Number Two Spot

CANADENSIS — Barrett High moved into a three-way tie for second place in the Monroe County Basketball League with a 61-40 verdict over Polk, here on the latter's home hardwood last night.

The win was the third in five outings for Barrett, while Polk is now sporting a mark of two victories and a trio of defeats.

Reed Gravel paced Barrett to the important victory, as he sparked the home team to strong showing in the first and third period.

Satterfield Favored Over Holman

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Dynamite-fisted Bob Satterfield is an 8-5 favorite over improving Johnny Holman in their nationally televised heavyweight bout at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night (10 p.m. EST-ABC).

These two veteran Chicagoans, persistent members of the "Iwanna fight Marciano" crowd, have impressive knockout records.

However, Satterfield, 32, number six light heavy in the current Ring Magazine ratings, has a vulnerable chin himself, being chilled 11 times against 30 KO triumphs.

Spots Weight

Satterfield, who holds victories over Nino Valdes, Bob Baker and Paul Andrews in his 40-19-3 record, will weigh about 186 and spot some 15 pounds to Holman, number six ranked heavyweight. Holman is 28.

Holman's 28 triumphs against 11 losses and one draw includes 17 knockouts. Since twice being stopped by Satterfield, Holman was taken under wing by Angelo Dundee, the apt trainer who also handles Willie Pastrano, Ralph Dupas and Mike Diaz.

Dundee's schooling receives credit for Holman's upset triumph over former heavyweight champion Edward Charles last May as well as notable victories over Boardwalk Billy Smith and Cesar Brion.

Probation Extended

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association council tonight extended the probation of the University of Miami (Fla.) for one year.

Warriors Edge Hawks

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10 (AP)—Neil Johnston and Joe Graboski combined with nine overtime points tonight as the Philadelphia Warriors defeated the St. Louis Hawks 109-107, in a National Basketball Association game before a capacity crowd of 3,366 fans in Lincoln High School Gym.

More Money Turned In To TB Society

ANOTHER $44.50 in settlements for Christmas Seals was made yesterday with Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society, sending total cash receipts up to $10,556.74.

The daily report issued by Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of the society, showed that 5,881 individuals, organizations and firms have made payment for Christmas Seals sold once each year by the society to finance its vast chest x-ray and health program.

Even as the effort to close out the campaign proceeded, the TB Society staff headed by Mrs. Fleming prepared for an industrial and community x-raying project in November.

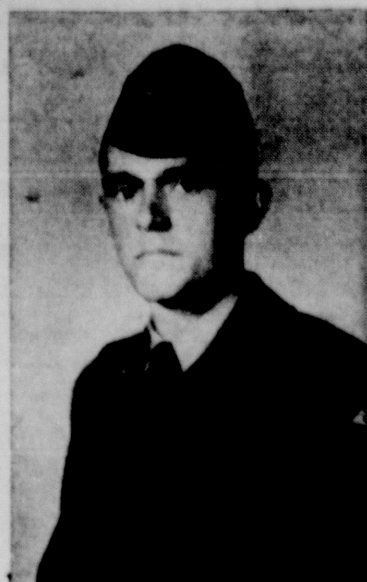

One of the first plants to come under the program is Ronson, Inc., in East Stroudsburg.

Yesterday Mrs. Fleming conferred with the Ronson, Inc. plant nurse and personnel executives on the mechanics of the streamlined task of x-raying all personnel of Ronson.

Posters and other educational material for distribution to employees was also made available to Ronson officials.

Bangor School To Be Given Freedom Shrine

BANGOR—A "Freedom Shrine" consisting of exact replicas of 22 historic documents in the development of this country will be presented to the Bangor Area Joint High School by the Bangor Exchange Club. The presentation will take place at a special assembly program in the high school auditorium on Jan. 27 at 2:30 p.m. in the presence of all the high school pupils.

Clarence Reichard, of Allentown, state president of Exchange Clubs, will make the presentation, and Mayor Donald Hock, of Allentown, a past state president of Exchange, will be the principal speaker.

Samuel Hicks, of Bangor, past district governor of Exchange Clubs, is chairman of arrangements. Hicks said the Bangor club's project will be the second such shrine presentation by a local club to a school in eastern Pennsylvania. Two years ago, the same presentation was made to Allentown High School.

The framed replicas of such documents as the Declaration of Independence and Lincoln's Gettysburg address and all others will go on permanent exhibit at the school.

22 Die In Fires

MONTREAL, Jan. 10 (P)—Nineteen children and three adults perished in fires in eastern Canada over the weekend.

Stock Average Declines, Closes Above Day's Low

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (P)—Leading issues were among the major losers today as the stock market staged an orderly decline.

Selling was apparent from the opening bell, but a recovery movement in late afternoon lifted most shares from their lows for the day. Losses at the close ranged to around three points.

Steels and motors bore the brunt of the selling. Also lower were rubbers, aircrafts, oils, chemicals, electrical equipments and rails. Losses among the rails, however, were generally rather small.

Industrials Off

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $176.00, down 90 cents. The industrials lost $1.60, the rails 30 cents and the utilities 20 cents. Yesterday's decline of $2.40 was the sharpest in three months.

There were 271 advancing stocks and 605 declining. Issues traded contracted to 1,203 from yesterday's 1,228, largest since Sept. 28. Nine stocks hit new 1955-56 highs and 20 dipped to new lows.

Volume came to 2,640,000 shares against 2,700,000 yesterday.

Among the losers were Goodrich, down 2 1/4 at 83 1/4; Montgomery Ward, down 2 at 90 1/2; Du Pont, off 2 1/4 at 22 1/4 (after being down around five at one time); Standard Oil (N.J.), off 2 1/4 at 148 1/2; General Electric, down 1 1/4 at 54 1/4; and Bethlehem Steel, down 2 at 157 1/4.

Allied Chemical resisted the downtrend, closing up 1 at 111. General Motors, a regular feature of the most active list in recent weeks, topped it again today, losing 1/4 at 43 1/2 on a turnover of 93,600 shares.

U. S. Steel was No. 2, dipping 1/4 at 54 1/2 on 36,900 shares. It was followed by Westinghouse Electric, down 1/4, Sperry Rand, down 1/4, and Avco Mfg., up 1/4.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed. The corporate bond market followed the stock market's lower trend. U. S. government issues, on the other hand, were strong.

How to have a SNAPPY NEW YEAR

Take a New Year—like this one.

Take a new Buick—like this one.

Put them together, and what have you got?

You've got just about the snappiest time of your entire motoring career—in power and performance and prideful good feeling.

It begins when you drive away from the showroom.

Heads turn to follow your brand-new Buick with its stunning sweep-ahead styling, racy contours, vivid colors.

Next thing you notice is the silken power delivery of a big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with the highest output of high-compression horsepower in Buick history.

But it's not till you enter the stream of traffic that you discover you're bossing the smoothest package of nimbleness on four wheels...

Because this time Buick engineers have added a new marvel to the airplane-principled performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

It's something they call "double regeneration"—and it gives you solid new take-hold, sensational new take-off, and exquisite new control right in your normal cruising range at only part throttle—and with new gas savings to boot.

Then, when you want an extra helping of "go" for safety's sake—just floor the pedal and switch the pitch for added take-off that literally wings you on your way.

But there's even more to the story than that.

There's the easy way your Buick turns and parks and handles and does what you want it to do, as though it had a private line to your thoughts.

There's the fresh and eager bounce to your step after a long day's drive—thanks to Buick's deep-oil-cushioned luxury ride.

And there are Buick's surprisingly low prices to consider, along with the outstanding trade-in deals that Buick's volume sales permit us to make.

Come in—drive the best Buick yet—hear our offer—see if you don't snap it up. Can you visit us this week?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

†Standard on Roadmaster and Super, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Soil Bank Idea Gains Backers

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10 (P)—The general idea behind President Eisenhower's billion dollar soil bank plan won virtually unanimous approval today among officials of the state Farm Show.

In most cases, however, agreement with the major plan in the President's nine-pronged plan for the betterment of the agricultural industry was made with qualifications.

The comment among farmers attending the show was different, however, with just as many opposing the plan as favoring it. Their reactions covered every angle from complete agreement to accusation that the Chief Executive has pointed his attack in the wrong direction.

"There is no getting away from it, he's on the right track when he proposes a soil bank plan but how he is going to implement it will be the proof of the pudding," said William L. Henning, state agriculture secretary.
